

Summary

Pharmaceutical administration form of a medical compound which may have direct effect on a biological receptor system, whereby the bioresonance spectrum of said medical compound is recorded on an electromagnetic memory.